

Jackson Metal Roofing Supply uses the highest quality paints from AkzoNobel to protect your home.

Ceram-A-Star® 1050 technology is the newest achievement resulting from a decade of research and development by AkzoNobel Coatings. Weathering performance of Ceram-A-Star® 1050 coatings is proven to be superior to standard silicone modified polyester finishes used in the metal construction industry. Ceram-A-Star® 1050 colors have been time tested in the harsh climate of South Florida for more than 10 years. Durability has proven to be excellent.

Special ceramic and inorganic pigments give color stability to Ceram-A-Star® 1050 systems. Combined with a new high performance resin formulation, this product offers excellent fade resistance and gloss retention.

Ceram-A-Star® 1050 is available with Cool Chemistry® Series pigmentation when optimum solar reflectance is desired.
